

Q The culture and tradition of IVC have been preserved without a breakdown to the present

All that can be known to us of the Indus Valley Civilization to date came from the physical evidence excavated at various sites. It was from the Neolithic Age that the settlement took place and with the minimum available resources IVC people could manage their living & further creative ideas in the fields of Arts, infrastructure, jewellery design, tradition. & culture is still prevalent as IVC was the root for the today's modern development.

following are the tradition & culture which are still prevalent of the time of IVC:
 Pashupati Mahadeva + Phallus Worship
 humped bull - Nandi, Snakes

- (i) Worship → Animals like one horned unicorn & humped bull were worshiped during IVC time period while at present cow is mainly worshiped by people. Also trees like Neem, & peepal are still worshiped by people since the time of IVC.
- (ii) Bathing Ritual → Public place of Mohenjodaro was the Great Bath of the time of IVC which was probably used for ritual bathing while in today's time people go for Ganga Snan at various Ghats mainly Ganga of Haridwar, Mani Ganga of Mathura.
- (iii) Agriculture → From the time of IVC Agriculture was predominately practiced by the people. Crops grown were wheat, barley, rice, Peas, Sesum & Mustard. At present crops are as per the climatic condition & fertility of soil. Like in Punjab & Haryana wheat is a major crop grown.

(iv) Domestication of Animals → During the time of IVC animals were raised at large scale and were used as Beast of Burden mainly As a Camel while at present time also animals are used for the same purpose and also for ploughing agricultural field being the common practice of the time.

(v) Administration - Citadel of IVC was a place which was probably occupied by ruling Class while at present Administrative Authority is responsible for the state welfare.

As per the researchers what all could be excavated during the the time of IVC has been marked as the evidence and hence glorified at present. By various practices in different aspects being practiced by the IVC people has been followed by the people today with adding their flavour to it with the changing time. Therefore IVC is the root on which History is nourished today by its various events, practices and beautiful culture.
